

PHEASANT SEASON
The pheasant season will open Sunday, Nov. 28, not on Nov. 15 as was the case last year, warns L. P. Chappell, chief of patrol, state division of Fish and Game, the new date having been set by the 1943 legislature. The season bag limit is ten. Four birds may be taken on the opening day, and only two birds per day thereafter.

Church to Resume Evening Services

Beginning its fall program with a Rally day observance in the Sunday school at 9:45 and with worldwide communion service in the morning worship period, Central Evangelical Community church also resumes this Sunday evening its regular services at the 7:30 hour. During the summer months the church conducted a series of vesper programs at the 4:30 p. m. services. In the church school an award will be given to the largest family present and each person attending the school will receive a souvenir gift. An attendance goal of 50 has been set for the Rev. O. D. Wonder Bible class. Special emphasis will be placed on music in the Sunday evening services. The only War Bond you'll ever regret is the one you didn't buy!

Lt. Leonard Douglas Promoted to 1st Lt. At Port Hospital

Lieut. Leonard C. Douglas, detachment commander, at the Los Angeles Port of Embarkation Station hospital, has been promoted to first lieutenant, it was announced today.

A native of Morrow county, Ore., Lieut. Douglas more recently has made his home at 2575 B st., San Diego, where his mother, Mrs. Clara H. Douglas, now resides.

Lieut. Douglas was a pre-medical student prior to his enlistment in 1940 in a medical unit, which he served in Hawaii for a time. He then attended the Medical Administration Corps Officer Candidate school at Carlisle, Pa., and was commissioned in July 1942.

With his wife and baby, Lieut. Douglas lives at 1446 Henderson st., Long Beach.

Tomatoes Produced From Cuttings

One of Gardena's horticulturists who does considerable experimental work has succeeded in growing tomatoes from cuttings which, he says, is a great improvement over propagating them from seedlings. He is Richard White of 812 West 168th st. He declared the cuttings may be planted at any time in this climate. "This is the second year that he has successfully raised tomatoes from cuttings."

White points with pride to one plant ten feet tall from which he picked 140 good tomatoes and has reduced the seed in them 50 per cent, he declared.
